

But when Little Wee Bear looked at his bed everything was in place except for a pile of yellow curls on the pillow. "Somebody has been sleeping in my bed – and she is still here!" he said.

And from that day, the three bears never saw Goldilocks again.

